Re: Policy Statement 1 – "Cat Harvesting"

I grew up in Peru (IN) ...

(amongst carny folk ...)

I know times are tough, despite the bullshit that comes from President Obama's poop hole or mouth as some call it. These are times that make it difficult to put red meat on the table, for the family, so they can get their protein.

I grew up, in Peru (IN), and we would have to hunt squirrel and rabbit and rat and cat and dog in the off season, and during the summer we fed on the swill left over by carnival goers in the porta-potties (Honey Bucket), boiled it, tasted nasty, but very nutritious.

Any who – I don't want America's children eating its own feces?!?!?

Also, and I must emphasize this, I spent much of my youth running from cats that would follow our carnival about ... from town to town ... as a roving gang of fanged creeps.

Therefore, I am calling for the culling of cats, 1 per family, to feed the poor of America. One of your cats must be harvested.

(get the poor some protein)

So sayest Dr. Freckles ...
